Failure: from the world of Spirit we see it as a rather intriguing word.

It really has no value, since it relates to illusion.

Failure is a reflection of judgement from the outside world.

It is based on fear and comparison to others.

It is never who we are, and definitely not what you think you should be.

In the world of God, failure does not exist. It is impossible to fail. Just by being here in your physical being is the highest act of success.

You were not created to fail anything and nothing can fail you.

You have to remember that failure is an abstract concept created by ego to control and enslave spirit away from its own brilliance.

You can NOT FAIL no matter how hard you try.

Your make-up is programmed for enlightenment and expansion not only for your soul, but also for your physical being.

Whenever you assume that you have failed, it is a reminder that you are driving the wrong way.

Your uniqueness is the opposite of failure and you are needed as you are.

Remember it well.

Remember, be gentle with yourselves and peace be with you.
